

October 31, 2013

L&T Wins D&B Top Infrastructure Company Award

L&T IDPL Bags Three 'Best Project' Awards

L&T won the coveted Top Infrastructure Company award in the category Construction - Infrastructure Development I (Large) at the third edition of Dun & Bradstreet (D&B) Infra Awards 2013, held in Mumbai on October 29, 2013.

L&T Infrastructure Development Projects Limited (L&T IDPL), the wholly-owned subsidiary of L&T, won the D&B Infra Awards for the Ahmedabad-Maliya Tollway. It was selected as the 'Best Project' in three categories namely - Roads & Highways, Public Private Partnership, and Environmental Sustainability. This is the third consecutive year that L&T IDPL has won honours from D&B.

Dun & Bradstreet, established in 1981 and listed in the New York Stock Exchange, is a leading provider of business information, knowledge and insight. These awards felicitate leading infrastructure companies that have delivered exemplary performance. D&B uses a proprietary model to select the award winners based on various qualitative and quantitative factors. Industry experts and eminent professionals from infrastructure and allied sectors formed the independent jury.

Mr. Dip K. Sen (right), EVP & Head of Transportation Infrastructure, L&T Construction, receives the D&B Top Infrastructure Company award for L&T from Mr. Naresh Salecha, Joint Secretary & Financial Adviser, Ministry of Urban Development. At left is Mr. Kaushal Sampat, President & CEO of India, D&B.