

December 24, 2012

Mr. A.M. Naik Ranked 32nd Best Performing CEO In The World

The Harvard Business Review in its January-February 2013 edition has named L&T's Executive Chairman, Mr. A.M. Naik, as the 32nd Best Performing CEO in the world. In the industrial sector Mr. Naik is ranked 4th Globally.

The Harvard Business Review is one of the most respected business journals in the world.

Mr. Naik has been ranked in a global study of 3143 CEOs from 1862 companies representing 64 nationalities and from companies based in 37 countries.

Former Apple Chief, Steve Jobs, who passed away last year, has topped the list followed by Jeff Bezos of Amazon.com in No. 2 spot and Yun Jong-Yong of Samsung Electronics in the third place.

The evaluation criteria included how much shareholder returns had changed over their tenure and the overall increase in market capitalization.

For a more detailed report on the selection criteria, please visit:
<http://hbr.org/2013/01/the-best-performing-ceos-in-the-world/ar/1>

